

About CPSi

CPSi is an organization dedicated entirely to advising students and their families to help them fulfill their college and education needs. CPSi provides students and their families with an individualized, objective plan and assistance to achieve their college admission goals. From college selection, applications, and essays, to interview coaching, and scholarships, CPSi empowers both parents and students with motivating facts that lead to a successful college admission outcome.

CPSi's unique personalized services help college dreams become a reality! For over a decade, CPSi has helped nearly 7,000 students choose and gain admission to their best fit colleges and explore college money and student scholarships.

CPSi's Vision CPSi's vision of success is empowered students at every competency level who obtain the highest quality education while having a tremendous college experience.

CPSi's Mission as Your Education Partner™

- To empower the student with a successful college path, including guidance through a customized step-by-step plan for college selection, application, and admission
 - To expertly guide students to make wise choices that open college and career opportunities
- Facts about CPSi
- CPSi is an independent college consulting company headquartered in Bellevue / Seattle, Washington.
 - Through our full-service packages, CPSi has helped nearly 7,000 students gain admission to colleges and universities. We've helped thousands more throughout the United States and worldwide with essays, college selection, applications, and resumes.
 - For over a decade, CPSi has fulfilled its mission and helped students attend their "right-fit" colleges and qualify for scholarships.
 - CPSi offers programs to help college-bound students at all levels: the Middle School or Junior High Student, the High School Student, the College Transfer Student, the College Student applying to Graduate School, and the Non-Traditional Student.
 - Recognized nationally, CPSi has been interviewed and has had excerpts published by the Associated Press, USA Today, the LA Times, Chicago Tribune, and the Seattle Times.
 - CPSi regularly presents college-planning seminars by invitation at public and private schools, churches, and for groups such as the US Air Force Women's Conference, the Washington Athletic Club, and other civic organizations.
- The CPSi Advantage
- CPSi's programs are selective. The acceptance rate to CPSi programs has been 49% to 57% over the last three years.
 - When a CPSi program is offered, the student and parents have a choice of service options that best meet their objectives and their budget.
 - All CPSi College Guidance and Planning services are of the highest quality; program fees are based on the number of CPSi consultants and staff hours involved.
 - CPSi students and families have enjoyed a warm counseling relationship and benefited from the expert advice of former college advisors from such prestigious colleges as Dartmouth College, University of Pittsburgh, University of Puget Sound, and University of California, Berkeley, to successfully guide them into their college careers.